

Wife Badly Hurt In Belvedere Fire

The wife of a prominent Belvedere attorney fought for life today with burns over much of her body suffered as she attempted to rescue her 10-year-old daughter from a fire that destroyed her $60,000 Belvedere hillside home.

The quest in which Mrs. Marjorie (Peggy) Hoppe, 39, suffered the burns was needless. Her husband, estranged and suing for divorce but spending the night at the home, had rescued daughter Heather minutes earlier.

Fire investigators sifted the ruins of the two-story frame home at 101 Belvedere Avenue, 100 feet above the bay, in search for clues to the source of the fire, which engulfed the structure before its flames were spotted at 11:50 p.m. by a Sausalito resident.

Husband Carl Edwin Hoppe, 42, rescued Heather and escaped unharmed, as did Mrs.

Hoppe's mother, Mrs. Marie Derby. The Hoppes' 14-year-old son, Karl, was not at home.

The Hoppes' collie dog perished in the flames.

The alarm was sounded by Gordon Strawbridge of Sausalito. He said he had gone onto the porch of his home at 83 Filbert Street and saw a glow across the water. He returned, focused his binoculars on the glow, then dashed to call the Belvedere Fire Department.

When Fire Chief Lawrence T. (Bunk) Mersereau arrived with 32 men and four fire engines, "the place was completely involved," the chief reported. Flames were licking through brush up the precipitous hillside to Belvedere Avenue.

Firemen kept a spray of water on the chief as he scrambled downhill to the lower side of the house. There he found the Hoppe family, with Mrs. Hoppe wrapped in a blanket and severely burned.

Hoppe, who was in pajamas, said he had called at the home "to patch things up" and stayed for the night. He said he was downstairs when flames "exploded through the wall."

Hoppe said he called to his wife to "get out and I will get Heather." He rushed into the girl's bedroom, he said, but as he started to return, flames blocked his way. He then smashed a window and leaped out with the girl.

Mrs. Hoppe, apparently unaware her husband and daughter had escaped, rushed through the flames into the girl's bedroom. She was severely burned passing through the room.

Two off-duty Sausalito firemen, Ralph K. (Swede) Pedersen and his neighbor Lawrence Zeigler, saw the flames and raced to the fire in Ziegler's rescue boat, tying up at the Hoppe wharf. They administered first aid to Mrs. Hoppe until arrival of John Raggio of Marin Ambulance Service, who rushed her to Marin General Hospital. Her condition remained critical this afternoon.

Pedersen said the heat was so intense they considered taking Mrs. Hoppe out by boat rather than carry her up the hill to the street. Chief Mersereau said she had to be carried up "the side of a hill where a goat couldn't get."

Firemen battled the blaze until 3 a.m., although chief Mersereau said the house was so far gone when they arrived that "we could do little but put water on the vegetation around it." The Belvedere department was joined by trucks from Tiburon, Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley Fire Departments during the battle.

Chief Mersereau said it would cost at least $60,000 to replace the house. He could give no estimate of the value of furnishings, all consumed in the blaze. The home was built in 1935 by Dr. L. W. Hosford, who now lives in San Rafael.

Many people watched the fire from Sausalito.

Mrs. Hoppe sued for divorce last Nov. 1, charging cruelty. Her husband countered with a charge that she was romantically involved with Gunnar Frengen, 54-year-old Norwegian inventor who had been a house guest of the Hoppes.

The Belvedere Avenue home of the Hoppes was built against the side of the hill, with bulkheading. Hoppe was a leader in the fight against "houses on stilts" on the Belvedere waterfront, proposed by Belvedere Land Co.

Natives Kill Lumumba In Jungle Raid

Belgian Officials Fear Executions Of Reprisal

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The Katanga provincial government today reported that deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba was slain by tribesmen and buried in a secret grave. It dared anyone to prove "assassination" and the stage was set for a new Congo bloodbath.

Belgian officials warned there would be a "night of the long knives" and reprisal executions of prisoners held by Pro-Lumumba factions in Oriental and Kivu provinces. An estimated 300 prisoners, including at least eight whites, are believed held by pro-Lumumba forces in Stanleyville, capital of Oriental.

The official announcement by Katanga Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo that Lumumba, 35, and two companions were killed yesterday ended a four-day mystery that began with the Katanga announcement of the escape.

An estimated 300 prisoners, including at least eight whites, are believed held by pro-Lumumba forces in Stanleyville, capital of Oriental.

How they were slain was not revealed. But Munongo said a physician viewed the bodies.

Katanga President Moise Tshombe and his aides denied charges that it staged the jailbreak as a cover-up to hide

To charges that the Katanga regime had killed Lumumba along with his former sports minister Maurice Mpolo and deputy senate speaker Joseph Okito, the Katanga government said: "Prove it."

At the United Nations in New York, the Soviet Union blamed Belgium, the Allies and U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold for the "murder" of the 35-year-old pro-Communist Lumumba.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson urged "not revenge but reconciliation." Observers said this was unlikely.

The announcement of Lumumba's death sent a tremor of fear through the white community of the Congo.

"God help the Belgian people and other Europeans in Kivu and Oriental provinces," senior Belgian diplomat said here.

Venus Shot Opens New Space Probe

Next Rocket Stage May Be To Place Man In Orbit

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union's Venus-bound messenger is her most spectacular and significant space shot in several respects:

1. It apparently opens a fourth phase in the Soviet space program—to explore the planets. The next and fifth stage could be to put man into space.

2. The Soviet Union created, in effect, a space platform from which to launch a talkative and guided visitor with a good chance of hitting or going into orbit around Venus. Orbiting and seemingly innocent space platforms, say some military experts, might also be used suddenly to launch nuclear warhead rockets downward at prime targets on earth.

3. It is another dramatic demonstration of the Soviet lead in space capabilities, and of quick exploitation of space frontiers before that capability is equalled or surpassed.

To amplify these points:

The Soviet Union's first phase was three Sputniks exploring space and space conditions near earth. Then came three shots concerned largely with the moon. Then three studying effects on animals and other life in space travel around the earth.

Now the fourth stage is the exploratory reach toward nearby planets, with a space craft carrying a Soviet banner, as did the one which hit the moon in 1959.

WHITE CLOUDS

Veiled by obscuring white clouds, Venus is a worthy first planetary target. The weight—1,418 pounds—of the Venus messenger indicates it carries instruments which could answer puzzling questions about Venus, if the probe comes near enough in mid-May and still can radio back what it finds.

Soviet announcements have not yet spelled out what the equipment may be. But it could be so equipped that radioed data might supply more accurate knowledge about the size and mass of Venus.

En route, the space vehicle could add greatly to knowledge about radiations in space, magnetic fields, and effects of the sun and space phenomena upon life on earth.

The record for radioing back data about space now is held by the U.S. probe, Pioneer V, which kept talking over a distance of 22½ million miles while it went out to become a little man-made planet of the sun.

Off To Jail

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four more high-salaried electrical firm executives were to start 30-day prison sentences today for fixing prices and rigging bids in America's biggest federal antitrust case.

Two of the seven officials ordered jailed a week ago in the smashing of the giant conspiracy already are behind bars. They surrendered unexpectedly Friday—three days ahead of schedule.

Kennedy Sends Congress Health Care Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy sent to Congress today proposed legislation to carry out his recommendation for social security financing of a billion dollar-a-year program of health care for the aged.

Kennedy said there is "urgent" need to provide the health insurance benefits for persons over 65.

"Every study has demonstrated that the cost of adequate health care for those over 65 are becoming an accelerated problem," he said.

The bill was introduced in the House by Rep. Cecil R. King of California, second-ranking Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over the legislation.

The announcement was made shortly after Kennedy returned to his White House desk from his first relaxed weekend at a rented estate in the heart of Virginia's hunt country.

Kennedy motored back to Washington from the Glen Ora estate at Middleburg.

The president also has scheduled a conference here Feb. 20 with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker.

A summary of the bill's main provisions said the health care plan would cover "almost 14½ million persons out of the 16½ million persons aged 65 and over." This would take in those eligible under the social security or railroad retirement systems as of Jan. 1, 1963.

It was announced in Washington that the president will hold separate White House conferences with the prime ministers Robert Menzies of Australia and Keith J. Holyoake of New Zealand within the next three weeks.

Tiburon Fishing Area Dedicated 'As Safe Place For Marin Children'

Nearly 200 people, most of them children, crowded around Tiburon's Elephant Rock fishing platform for its dedication yesterday "as a safe fishing spot for all Marin County children."

The circular platform was dedicated to the memory of Robert L. (Bunkie) Keener, 11-year-old San Rafael boy who fell to his death while fishing off a nearby railroad pier.

Willis A. Evans, area fisheries management supervisor of the state department of fish and game, was the principal speaker.

"You have demonstrated how a public spirited group can accomplish a reality," Evans said. Speeches were short so the children could go on the pier and start the competition to catch the first fish, the prize being a salt water rod and reel.

Two Fairfax boys, 16 and 15, and a 16-year-old San Anselmo youth were arrested yesterday after they allegedly blew up a mailbox with firecrackers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Walker on Bolinas Road, just outside the Fairfax city limits.

Walker's 21-year-old son, Harold M. Jr., heard an explosion at the home at 4 p.m. and saw an auto drive away from the mailbox. He and his father notified the sheriff's office, who called Fairfax police.

Police stopped the auto and held the youths until sheriff's deputies picked them up. The boys were released to the custody of their parents.

The cooperative holds an option on a site at the Corte Madera wye on which it may build a consumer-owner supermarket. It is seeking a rezoning of the property from professional and administrative office district to local shopping district.

Three letters protesting the rezoning have been received to date.

The commission also will hold a public hearing on a variance request by John F. Flynn of 25 Sea Wolf Passage, who wants to increase the height of part of the fence at his home to insure privacy.

Highway Plan Due Opposition At Meeting

Opposition to engineer Daniel Coleman's plan for including a Linden Lane off-ramp in the widening of Highway 101 through San Rafael is expected to be voiced tonight at a hearing by the San Rafael City Council at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

The Community Preservation League of San Rafael, a group claiming 150 home owner members, mostly in the Dominican Area, has sent a letter to the council recommending that the off-ramp be moved north to the proposed Puerto Suello Hill interchange.

Dr. Orville F. Grimes, president of the league, said a petition protesting the Linden Lane off-ramp will be presented to the council later.

The league was organized 18 months ago to study the state's plan for widening the freeway through the city.

Dr. Grimes said in general the league agrees with the plan proposed by Coleman. But he urged moving the northbound off-ramp, asserting exits and entrances from freeways to small communities should be at the periphery rather than in congested areas and the Linden Lane off-ramp would become a major exit point.

Tonight's hearing will be an informal meeting, and according to City Manager Dan E. Andersen, no action can be taken.

Two Rescued From Mudflat Near Air Base

A Santa Venetia man and his grandson were rescued from the mudflats off Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday after their fishing boat became stuck.

Oreste Sinisgallo, 80, of 637 Vendola Drive and his grandson Valen Threadgall, 18, of Napa were rescued by airmen from the base boat rescue section. The stranded fishing boat was spotted at 5:15 p.m. The boat was stuck about 1 1/4 miles off the base when the tide receded.

A/1 James S. Campbell and A/3c Raymond W. Strang went out in a flat bottomed boat pushed by an airplane propeller. The boat glided over the mud and towed the fishermen to open water.

"Zelinsky has carved his niche in heaven because of his work on this pier," Blair's letter said.

Also scheduled to speak but unable to appear because of illness was Sylvester J. McAtee, Sausalito attorney and former judge.

The children fished with free bait and had a marvelous time after the ceremony.

Contributions are needed to defray the $3,200 construction cost, according to William S. Johnstone, Tiburon chamber president. They may be sent to him in care of the chamber of commerce or given to any of the chamber directors.

The number of scheduled commercial airliners in U.S. at the beginning of 1959 totaled 1,717, up from 437 at the beginning of 1941.

Sonoma State College 1st President Named

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., a chemistry professor at San Diego State College since 1939, has been named the first president of Sonoma State College in Cotati.

The appointment assures opening of the new college for the Marin-Sonoma-Solano-Napa area this fall.

The 46-year-old teacher was confirmed to the $17,000-per-year post Saturday in Los Angeles by the State Board of Education. His first job as head of California's 16th state college, will be to rent quarters for its operation and hire a faculty. The state budget provides $423,549 for this purpose.

The Army commendation medal has been awarded to Capt. Carl A. Oja of San Rafael, a new officer on the staff of the maneuver and doctrine branch of the Sixth Army at the Presidio of San Francisco.

The medal was awarded for meritorious service while Captain Oja was stationed with the 4th Armored Division in Germany from 1957 to 1960.

The citation states that he showed outstanding leadership, thorough knowledge of military tactics and an astute and logical approach to training problems in tank and armored infantry positions.

Captain Oja and his wife and two daughters reside at 814 Hacienda Way, San Rafael.

The new president is well known as a research chemist. He took three years' leave from San Diego State to work on nuclear reactors at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory and at the University of California in Berkeley.

Thomas D. Keeler of Mill Valley, past president of the Marin Young Republicans, was elected general counsel of the California Young Republicans at their annual convention in Sacramento over the weekend.

Thomas J. Moss of Mill Valley, local vice president, was appointed regional vice chairman for seven northern California counties.

Elected state president was Peter Ashen, 33, a San Francisco insurance executive. He succeeds Mrs. Virginia Savell of Los Angeles.

Before the nearly 300 delegates adjourned, they considered about 20 controversial resolutions.

Five of the measures condemned such labor practices as secondary boycotts and pickets on firms where unions represent less than half of the employees.

A resolution asking repeal of the federal income tax was narrowly defeated but one opposing federal aid to education was approved.

NOVATO PAIR WINS $200 A MONTH PRIZE

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Hoff of Novato won $200 monthly for the next year as a prize at a benefit dance Saturday night to raise funds to construct bleachers for Novato High School football field.

The couple live in a trailer at Palm Lane Trailer Village.

"It was hard to believe," was Hoff's comment. He is a water engineer for Hagan Chemicals and Controls in San Francisco and plans to use the money to invest in stock in the firm.

The drive for some $33,000 to construct about 3,500 bleacher seats will continue with another meeting of the bleacher group next Monday at the high school cafeteria. Donations, student-raised funds, proceeds from the dance and sale of reserved seat football tickets for next season have swelled the fund to $16,100.

He was a director of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District. In 1957 he served on the Marin County Grand Jury.

Just last Thursday night, he received from former Berkeley Police Chief John B. Holstrom the report of an investigation of Ross's police organization which had been ordered as one of the projects he pushed for improvement of Ross town government. He was also responsible for organization of a 16-member citizen advisory committee to study Ross civic and recreational needs. Another project of the town council under his leadership is a master plan for Ross, now being prepared by a planning consultant.

Kanzeé, 56, was born in San Francisco Aug. 30, 1904. He attended San Francisco public schools for 12 years, received a B.S. degree from University of California, and a LL.B. degree from Hastings College of Law. He became a member of the Theta Chi fraternity and Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. He was on handball and gymnastics teams at the university.

From 1926 to 1932 Kanzeé served as engineer for the American Can Co. His period as a law student followed this, and on graduation he became a realty developer and adviser on personal investments, self-employed, with offices in San Francisco.

Lumumba's widow, under guard in Leopoldville, was informed of her husband's death.

Lumumba led the Congolese national movement, largest political faction in the sprawling country. He had the support of the Soviet Union, the United Arab Republic and a number of such "neutral" states as Ghana and Guinea.

He was either loved or hated in the Congo. He visited President Eisenhower at the White House in Washington last summer. He got drunk in a pub crawl one night early last fall in Leopoldville.

He sent letters to the United Nations while under house arrest last November. He had been beaten publicly twice since Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu, Katanga president Tshombe and Congolese army strongman Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu had seized him Dec. 2.

Kanzeé moved to Ross in 1944.

Kanzeé served as an engineer at Marinship during World War II.

His principal hobby was yachting and he was a founding member of the Marin Yacht Club. He also belonged to the Meadow Club in Fairfax and the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco. He was active in Community Chest work in 1950.

RUSS

the cloud cover around Venus, often termed earth's sister planet.

The Russians said a special "flight center" was tracking the rocket ship and controlling the times it radioed back to earth on 922.8 megacycles.

There was no indication whether the rocket ship would hit Venus, circle around it or shoot right by into space.

The "mother" satellite which carried the interplanetary station aloft started in orbit around the earth, the announcement said.

It did not say how much this satellite weighed but said it was launched by an "improved multi-stage rocket."

The heaviest previous object orbited by the Russians—or anyone—was a 7.1 ton Sputnik launched a week ago Saturday.

The Russians said there was no life aboard the 1,415.7-pound interplanetary station.

CHECK METHODS

"The main object of the probe is to check the methods of injecting a space body into an interplanetary trajectory, to check radio communications over superlong distances and the guiding of a space station, to check more exactly the size of the solar system and to carry out a program of physical observations in outer space," the official announcement said.

The reference to guidance indicated the space ship might be equipped with rockets which could be used to change its course, if necessary.

The first announcement said only that the station was moving "close to" its calculated orbit, not necessarily exactly on it.

To reach its rendezvous with the earth's "sister" planet, the ship would need a fantastic guidance system.

He was either loved or hated in the Congo. He visited President Eisenhower at the White House in Washington last summer. He got drunk in a pub crawl one night early last fall in Cairo, Egypt.

Lumumba led the Congolese national movement, largest political faction in the sprawling country. He had the support of the Soviet Union, the United Arab Republic and a number of such "neutral" states as Ghana and Guinea.

NOT MUCH DETAIL

Soviet officials did not go into very much detail on just how the feat was accomplished but on Oct. 5, 1959, astronomer V. Arsentyev wrote in Pravda that it might be done.

It said a rocket to Venus, starting from the earth, would need an initial speed of 7.1 miles a second to escape the earth's gravity. Other Soviet scientists estimated slightly higher.

To reach Venus Arsentyev said, the rocket would have to be launched in a direction opposite to earth's movement. Venus is the planet nearest the earth in the direction of the sun. It varies between 26 million and 160 million miles from earth. At present the two are separated by about 55 million miles.

Tass gave no indication what the launching speed at the rocket was but the Russians said the one that hit the Moon in October, 1959, traveled at 7 miles a second. That one weighed about three times as much as the Venus ship.

The Russians prepared for the Venus shot by lobbing rockets into Pacific Ocean targets during the first half of 1960. At the time they said the shots were a "prelude to launching space flights toward the planets of the solar system."

Driver Sentenced

Guy Magnus Huffman, 44, a Ukiah nursery employee, must pay a $263 fine and spend 10 days in Marin County Jail for drunken driving. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him Thursday for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 last Sunday. Huffman had a prior conviction in San Francisco in March, 1955.

The election will be held April 18, asking a boost in the general purpose tax rate. If other funds remain the same the total tax rate would be increased from $2.13 to $2.48.

Origin of Syphilis

• Hepatitis

• Vein Weakness

• Salk Vaccine

Q. Where did syphilis originate?

A. No one knows when or where germs (including the one that causes syphilis) originated. Syphilis, which is again on the rise, probably existed for eons in both Europe and the New World. For some unknown reason, a deadly form of the disease spread with frightful speed through Europe shortly after the discovery of America. The germ (spirochete) which causes syphilis was then unknown, the general belief being that the disease was divine punishment for the lax morals of the times.

Q. What is infectious hepatitis?

A. It is a virus infection of the liver. Infectious hepatitis, commonly called jaundice, can often be traced to sewage problems or contaminated water. Outbreaks of the disease often occur in areas where septic tanks overflow.

Q. What is the best treatment for varicose veins?

A. It depends. For some, surgery may be indicated. Injection treatment may be best for others.

Prescriptions called for promptly and delivered quickly.

Burglars Hit 2 Businesses, Get Whisky

Burglars broke into two San Rafael businesses and a Loma Verde home yesterday, but the entire loot totalled a partially filled bottle of whisky and four cans of beer.

The liquor and beer were taken from the home of David E. Carter, 24, of 310 Alameda de la Loma, Loma Verde. He arrived home about 8:30 p.m. and found a bottle of vermouth smashed on the driveway and the other bottles missing from the kitchen. The burglars had entered through an unlocked front door.

Another would-be thief, possibly searching for narcotics, pried open the rear door of a medical office building at 911 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Officer Charles Hickey found the door open at 2:45 a.m. today and said he heard noises inside. He radioed for assistance and two other policemen arrived to cover the other exits to the building. But the building was empty.

Dr. Joseph A. Guthrie, one of the occupants of the building, said nothing was taken. The doctor said there was no money or narcotics are kept in the offices.

It was the second break-in found in San Rafael in 30 minutes. At 2:20 a.m., Officer David Vargo discovered the front door of Abbot A. Hanks Roofing Co. at 10 De Luca Place had been pried open. Nothing had been taken from the building, he said.

Marin Man's Body Found In Slough

The body of Richard F. Stokes, 37, of 19 Locust Avenue, Larkspur, was found late yesterday in a Yolo County slough, Coroner W. C. McNary reported.

The body was found about seven miles south of where Stokes' car plunged into the east end of the Yolo bypass causeway the night of Feb. 2, United Press International reported from Woodland.

The body of Robert E. Whitt, 28, a transient, had been found in the car.

Stokes an unemployed salesman, had been looking for work in the Sacramento area. He is survived by his wife and infant son at the Larkspur address.

Mardi Gras All Ready Despite Many Setbacks

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Carnaval's wild whirl today plunged on toward Mardi Gras, only a few hours away, heedless of setbacks in Negro participation and a promise of rain.

Despite sunny, spring-like weather that drew the largest crowds yet to routes today and yesterday in shirt sleeves, the forecast called for widely scattered showers tomorrow, Mardi Gras.

Police officials today emphatically denied any validity to reports that certain elements in the city were arming for possible violence during the big day.

Police Supt. Joseph Giarrusso branded as "pure, unfounded rumor" reports that sales of ice picks, knives and lye had soared in certain areas—particularly in Negro districts.

The reports led owners of the city's largest supermarket to say in its full-page newspaper grocery advertisement:

"One of the lowest of all rumors that could discredit our greater New Orleans area and injure our tourist trade for Mardi Gras is that we sold 10,000 ice picks and 100,000 cases of lye—which makes these the greatest of all lies ever told."

But another newspaper ad lent validity to reports that the famous Negro Mardi Gras parade was having increased troubles. The ad called on "all citizens of New Orleans to avoid the Zulu parade."

Everett C. Lund of Willits, Mendocino County, visited the barn on the Joaquin Ranch at noon Saturday to check on articles he had stored there. He saw two men run from the barn, pursued them, but lost them in the brush.

Then he met Oscar S. Wagner of 309 Point San Pedro Road, who had noted a parked car he was able to describe. Check of the storage room by Lund disclosed loss of about 2,000 small caliber rifle shells, two revolvers, miscellaneous jewelry, a watch and small denomination coins aggregating $30 to $100 and including some "trade dollars."

Sgt. Lou Foster of San Rafael police at 2:30 p.m. located a car answering Wagner's description and found a watch in it identified by Lund as among the missing articles. Joseph Hawkins McNamara, 19, and Ronald R. Joseph, 21, both of 15 Mariposa Road, San Rafael, were taken into custody.

As result of information from McNamara, sheriff's deputies found a can with coins in a bathroom of the apartment. They then followed the fence by San Quentin Prison and found money in the brush at two points. A bag filled with pistol shells was found at a brickyard. A pistol and more shells were recovered from a friend to whom they had been loaned.

A 16-year-old boy held at Juvenile Hall told police he had been involved in the entry. Two trips into the barn were made, according to the youths, and they were trying to force a trunk open when Lund arrived.

In 1960, 25,300 cubic yards of fill were placed in the first two of the eight areas of the town park. A planting plan for the first three areas was prepared.

The report lists four plans for the town future: further development in the town park, such as excavation of the two lagoons, construction of some of the drainage system and filling of more area; property acquisition for the new proposed public safety building; construction of public works projects for which engineering is now in progress; substantial improvement in street lighting throughout the town.

Three Held For Looting Marin Barn

Two San Rafael youths were held in the Marin County jail yesterday for burglary investigation, with a third younger boy in Juvenile Hall, as result of removal of stored rifle shells, jewelry and small coins from a barn in the San Quentin area. Most of the loot was recovered with aid of one suspect.

The report, fourth for the town, was prepared by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow on authorization of the council.

In an introductory letter to residents, the council notes that population of Corte Madera increased by 13.9 per cent in 1960, compared to 10 per cent in 1959. Population is now estimated at 6,300.

With $10,836,520 in assessed valuations and sales tax revenue climbing to $90,100, it was possible to reduce the town tax rate 13.6 per cent—a 29.6 per cent reduction over a two-year period, the council pointed out.

The annual report features a financial analysis of revenues ($315,284) and expenditures ($303,092). A report from the police department indicates 142 crimes reported last year, and 51.4 per cent of them cleared. The fire department answered 53 alarms, and property damage amounted to $16,275.

Building construction in Corte Madera in 1960 declined from the peak year of 1958. New construction last year was valued at $2,249,993.

The accomplishment of the five-year street improvement program, adopted by the council in 1959, is on schedule, the report says.

In 1960, 25,300 cubic yards of fill were placed in the first two of the eight areas of the town park. A planting plan for the first three areas was prepared.

The report lists four plans for the town future: further development in the town park, such as excavation of the two lagoons, construction of some of the drainage system and filling of more area; property acquisition for the new proposed public safety building; construction of public works projects for which engineering is now in progress; substantial improvement in street lighting throughout the town.

HANLEY

Stu Miller is glad Candlestick Park's fences are being moved in 32 feet in left center, 22 in right center and 10 in straightaway center.

"The shorter fences will help our pitchers," said the 5-foot-11 right hander who did not serve one gopher ball in Candlestick last year. "Some of my fellow throwers might give me an argument on that, but I'm convinced all of us will be helped."

The flutter-ball artist, whose change of pace is the most baffling in the National League, declared "you can't win ball games without runs and last season the wind robbed our power hitters."

Miller conceded that the shorter fences might cut into the ERA record of Giant pitchers at Candlestick, but insisted this will be balanced for them in the won-lost column.

"And that's what counts," said the 33-year-old veteran. "They don't keep statistics on how many homers were held up by the wind. They only count the ones that go out. But I counted at least 20 potential homers caught at the fence on Willie Mays and Willie McCovey last year, and just as many on Orlando Cepeda, Bob Schmidt and Felipe Alou."

"I CAN remember very vividly three smashes by Schmidt that went off his bat like cannonballs but were turned into easy outs by the wind. I say emphatically the shorter fences will help us fellows on the mound."

Miller had his own early season problems with Candlestick's wind last year. It played all kinds of tricks with his butterfly ball, whipping it outside of the strike zone and upsetting Miller's usual pinpoint control.

AS THE season progressed the seasoned pro, whose temper rarely is ruffled, solved the wind currents between the mound and home plate.

"I just zipped it when it was zagging and zagged when it was zigging," said Miller, whose work for the Giants in 1960 was almost exclusively bullpen stuff.

He appeared in 47 games, only three of them as a starter, two of which he completed. He didn't get his first starting assignment until Aug. 22 against the Dodgers in Los Angeles and lost it. Against Milwaukee five days later in Candlestick he pitched his first full game of '60 and won it. In his third and final start on Sept. 11 against Cincinnati he beat the Reds in Crosley Field, going the full route.

MILLER IS pleased that Al Dark intends to use him as a starter this season and give him more work in Candlestick. He appeared in only 18 of his 47 games last year before the hometown fans. This was due to his early season control problems with the wind.

However, home afternoon games this year will start at 1 p.m., a half hour earlier than last year. Candlestick's wind normally does not begin acting up until after 2 p.m.

Japan-PCL World Series Slated To Start This Year

TOKYO (AP) — At the urging of former baseball great Lefty O'Doul, baseball executive Nick Morgan Jr. offered today to underwrite a Little World Series between the champions of Japan and the Pacific Coast League.

Morgan, new owner of the Honolulu PCL franchise, held a press conference, with older O'Doul doing a goodly share of the talking.

At the outset, Morgan remarked he and O'Doul, a favorite in Japan, came here solely to enhance relations between the two countries. Before the conference ended, he predicted the day will come when U.S. and Japanese teams will be in the same league.

Morgan at first said he would underwrite a series between his Hawaii team and the Japanese champs. O'Doul interpolated:

"Nick will invite the champs to Hawaii for seven games. He'll absorb the loss. If there's a profit, he'll split it."

MORGAN HAS MONEY

"All you need is money, and Mr. Morgan has the money."

Morgan then said sure he would, he didn't care who won the PCL pennant, he would guarantee any less in a playoff, it to Portland, Salt Lake City, or any other PCL team.

Although he has not yet met with Japanese baseball officials, he indicated desire to start the playoffs after the 1961 season. They would be in the States this year and Japan the next.

He said he wanted to make clear he was not here seeking Japanese baseball players, and, in answer to a question, declared he was not setting up a scouting system here.

O'Doul previously told the Japanese reporters—in English—that U. S. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick told him just before he left San Francisco that U. S. baseball men will not sign Japanese players who are under contract and they expect the same treatment from the Japanese.

STANKA CASE

All this was in reference to the Joe Stanka case—the saga of the Chicago White Sox pitcher who went on the voluntary retired list after the 1959 season, then came to Japan to play.

Morgan said minor league baseball now is "stagnant on the mainland" and moving the Sacramento franchise to Hawaii saved the PCL.

"We're envious of your baseball success here," he said. "The U. S. will gain more than the Japanese. We hope you accept us."

Morgan looked on the proposed playoffs as a forerunner to the day "when we will be playing in the same league."

He asked the Japanese newsmen: "What better way can my children get to know yours than through baseball?"

Marin Title Hopes Receive A Big Boost

College of Marin's basketball title hopes received a big boost Saturday night when the first place Shasta Knights were drubbed by American River College, 57-36.

The loss was Shasta's second against seven victories and dropped the Knights into a tie with Marin in the vital "lost column." Marin, however, has one less victory than Shasta and still trails the Knights by a half game with a 6-2 record.

Marin's victory record includes a forfeit over Yuba College. Yuba was scheduled to play Marin tomorrow, but has cancelled its remaining games.

UPHILL FIGHT

Marin, however, will have an uphill fight toward what it hopes will be its fourth straight Golden Valley Conference pennant. The Tars' remaining games are against Napa College Friday night and American River on Feb. 24. Both remaining opponents are outstanding teams.

He said he wanted to make clear he was not here seeking Japanese baseball players, and, in answer to a question, declared he was not setting up a scouting system here.

O'Doul previously told the Japanese reporters—in English—that U. S. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick told him just before he left San Francisco that U. S. baseball men will not sign Japanese players who are under contract and they expect the same treatment from the Japanese.

San Rafael Star Threatens

Marin League Scoring Mark

Randy Petrini's 25-point performance against Drake Friday night strengthened the San Rafael High School star's lead in the Marin County Athletic League individual basketball scoring race and edged him closer to the single season record.

Petrini in seven games now has stored 104 points for a 14.9 average. He leads runner-up Ed O'Connell of Marin Catholic by eight points and is only 29 points behind the season record with three more games to play. The record, set in the league's first season last year by San Rafael's Terry Tevis, is 133 points for 10 games. Petrini can bust it by averaging 10 points in his final three tilts.

The Bulldog star achieved his 104-point total with 37 field goals and 30 charities. O'Connell, who tallied Petrini by only one point last week, dropped eight points off the pace with 34 field goals and 28 free shots for 96 points and a 13.7 average.

Nearest contender is 21 points behind O'Connell. He is Tam High's Charles Bullock with 75 points on 23 field goals and 29 charities for a 10.7 average.

The other league leaders (field goals, foul throws, total points and averages) are Bob Sparrow, Novato, 25-15-65—9.3; Norm Kreuter, Tam, 23-19-65—9.3; Mike Bresnan, Drake, 17-30-64—9.1; Rich Curry, San Rafael, 20-23-63—9.0; Jim Sewell, Novato, 25-10-60—8.6; Mike Kavanagh, Redwood, 18-21-57—8.1.

TEAM STATISTICS

Team statistics show Redwood, leading the league with a 6-1 won-lost record, continues to show the best defense. The Indians have allowed opponents only 243 points for a 34.7 average per game. Tam has the next best defense with 265 points allowed for a 37.8 average.

The veteran fight manager who has handled Jack Dempsey, Archie Moore, and many others during his long career made the prediction yesterday on a visit to Johansson's training camp.

ARMY, MIAMI JOIN NAT'L INVITATION CADE TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Army (15-5) and Miami of Florida (15-6) today accepted bids to the National Invitational Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 16-13.

It will be the first appearance in the N.I.T. for both teams. Their selection brought to six the number of teams lined up for the post season carnival, this half completing the 12-man field. Previously named were Detroit, Memphis State, Providence and De Paul.

Army, which has won 11 of its last 12 games, is rated one of the strongest court squads in West Point history.

Miami's record includes wins over Louisville, Houston, San Francisco, Holy Cross and Army.

Norris, who signed yesterday, was only the second player to be signed by the Angels from 300 who originally turned up at a week-long tryout camp.

Stanford Clears Way For USC Title Hopes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California, on the strength of its victory at Stanford Friday and UCLA's subsequent loss to Stanford Saturday, moved a big step closer to its first Big Five basketball championship.

UCLA, rated the best shot at the high-flying USC Trojans, came a cropper at Stanford 79-65 as 6-3 John Windsor dumped 30 points for the winning Indians.

In other Saturday night action, Washington made it two in a row over California after eight straight defeats dating from 1957 by edging the Bears 59-58 at Washington in overtime.

The Huskies had beaten Cal 70-50 Friday night while Southern Cal ripped Stanford 63-57.

The Trojans are now 6-1 in conference play and 18-3 on the season. Washington is second at 5-4 and Stanford and UCLA are 3-3.

Windsor's big 30 for Stanford was the best night of his career, coming off 12 field goals and six free throws.

Stanford fired 49.1 per cent from the field, UCLA 41.9. Stanford led from the tip and was ahead at the half 36-30.

Washington and Cal ended regulation play tied at 52.

A basket by Earle Irvine and five followup free throws as against three Cal buckets did it for the Huskies in the overtime. Cal led at the half 28-27.

Washington's Clint Names led all scorers with 17. Dick Smith had 15 for Cal.

The colorful Californian, a former student at San Jose State, said he never followed the practice of other players in keeping in shape by doing road work and taking other exercises.

"I have trouble getting up in time to get to the courts on schedule," he confessed.

State Board Of Education Opposes Plan On Textbooks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The State Board of Education says it opposes a plan for multiple adoption of textbooks for elementary schools.

The board said Saturday such a proposal would lead to increased costs and complicated operations and end uniformity of instruction. It also would result in a loss of business for the state printing plant, the board said.

State law now requires the board to supply free to all schools a uniform series of textbooks. A bill introduced in the Legislature would allow local districts to choose from a list of several textbooks for each course.

The State Board also said it favored a plan for statewide testing of school children as proposed in a bill introduced by Assemblyman Gordon R. Winton Jr., (D-Merced). However, the board disagreed with a section in the bill which calls for local districts to choose from among three tests.

The board said it will approve Winton's plan if it has the right to select a single test. Single tests are necessary, the board said, so that districts can compare results.

Ice Makes Kansas River Flow Backward

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Kansas River flowed backward Sunday.

Massive ice jams moved down the Missouri River and rammed into the mouth of the Kansas, blocking its flow into the Missouri. Startled observers saw the 50-ton construction barges break loose in the Kansas River and float upstream.

NOBODY HERE BUT US KIDS, AND WE DID IT

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — When the burglar alarm of a bank rang yesterday, police, detectives and FBI agents, guns drawn, surrounded the building.

Officers found a rear window open and rushed into the Manchester Branch of the Mellon National Bank. The place was empty.

The only persons about were a 7-year-old girl and her 8-year-old brother who were standing on the sidewalk.

Hoping to get a description of the bank robbers, police questioned the youngsters.

Then the girl told them that she and her brother were the culprits.

The girl said "some older boys" urged her to enter the bank Saturday and again yesterday. She said she climbed in through a narrow opening between the sidewalk and an iron grille on a basement window, then opened the basement door to let the "gang" enter.

The youngsters found only $3 in a desk drawer.

After the children's repeat performance yesterday, the alarm was tripped.

The two children were handed over to juvenile court.

HARD KNOCKS AFTER PROM

Educator Warns Against Babying Teen-Age Students

DETROIT (AP) — If students are treated like babies in high school they can't be expected to act like adults in college.

Lloyd S. Michael, principal of Evanston (Ill.) Township High School, voiced that warning today in urging broad new programs of counseling for college students.

In a prepared speech to the National Assn. of Secondary-School Principals, convening here, Michael said: "In too many high schools, youths are typically treated as immature, irresponsible persons requiring a maximum amount of supervision and control."

"It is folly to assume that these same youths, after a senior prom and a magical summer, are ready to shoulder all the responsibilities of adults in a new environment where they are essentially without restriction and supervision."

Michael said that about one out of four students who enter college drop out by the end of their freshman year, and that only two out of five entering freshmen stay to graduate from the same institution four years later.

He said colleges and high schools alike have a greater responsibility than they are now assuming to see that the right student goes to the right college.

"Mistakes are too costly," Michael said, "for the failure in one college can mean the end of a youth's education."

With 50 per cent of the nation's high school graduates now going on to college, Michael said, preparation for college is a primary function of the secondary schools.

This means, he said, that academic programs must be given more emphasis in high school, and standards of achievement must be raised.

4 Super-Agencies Asked By Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown called on the legislature today to approve creation of four super-agencies as the first step toward a major reorganization of California's state government.

"The present structure is too often an enemy to economy, efficiency and good central direction of a huge and complicated piece of public machinery," he said in a special message to the lawmakers.

(Although the Assembly is meeting today, the Senate is in recess until tomorrow.)

DIRECT LINES

Brown said the governor needs more direct lines of control over the 360 state agencies and asked for the four super-agencies, each with a $25,000-a-year administrator, as a start.

Several existing state departments would be grouped under each of the big agencies, but no department would be eliminated or curtailed—at least not now.

The eventual plan is to create eight super-agencies whose administrators would form a cabinet, but Brown said he did not want to start with "too drastic an upheaval."

The eight-point message also urges reform of the boards and commissions which regulate California's businesses and professions.

CONFlict OF INTEREST

Brown said a conflict of interest is built into each of the licensing board by laws requiring that board members be from the business or profession the law requires them to regulate.

He urged approval of pending legislation to add a member representing the public to each of the boards as a first step, and asked for legislative study of present licensing practices.

Brown also asked for a constitutional amendment, which would require a vote of the people in 1962, giving him power to reorganize the executive branch subject to legislative veto.

Other proposals are to abolish 10 minor boards and commissions and to shift some functions from the State Finance Department to the state treasurer and controller.

Brown's plan is a modification of two studies of government reorganization which he had ordered.

The governor cited as an example of the need for reorganization the fact that three departments, two boards, a commission and nine regional boards now share responsibility for maintaining the quality of the state's water supply.

He postponed one of the most controversial items—creation of a central tax collecting agency combining the functions of the Board of Equalization, Franchise Tax Board and several other agencies.

The four super-agencies would be:

1. Corrections, composed of the present Corrections Department and Youth Authority.

2. Health and Welfare, consisting of the departments of public health, social welfare and mental hygiene.

3. Agriculture and resources, composed of agriculture, fish and game, water resources and natural resources. The latter would be split into two departments—conservation and parks and recreation.

4. Transportation, consisting of public works, motor vehicles and the highway patrol.

TERRA LINDA GUILDS PLAN 'INTERNATIONALE DANS,' MAR. 4

Posters, brilliant with color, the flags of many nations and intriguing table centerpieces will create an atmosphere of far away places when the original Guild of Sunny Hills in Terra Linda joins hands with the three newly organized Guilds in the area in presenting the "Internationale Dans" at the Meadow Club on March 4.

This most anticipated affair is the first important function with all Guilds participating together and will give the new members and their friends an opportunity to meet and greet each other and to introduce their husbands.

The Dans will feature dinner at 8:30 p.m. and dancing from 9:30 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.

Mrs. Thomas A. Gill and Mrs. Ormand D. Mathews, members of the original Guild in Terra Linda and now known as Guild 1, will chairman the Dans, assisted by the Mesdames Donald Walling, Henry Yancey and Ernest Isle representing the newly formed Guilds 2, 3 and 4 respectively.

Mrs. John Bickman and Mrs. James Walther, with special ingenuity and artistry, have cleverly designed tickets in the form of silk screen "passports", which will be your entree to this lovely dinner Dans. "Passports" may be obtained from ticket chairman Mrs. Elmer E. Johnson, or any member of the Sunny Hills Guilds in Terra Linda.

Have A Heart Theme For View Luncheon

HAVE A HEART!

Who? YOU!

"Have it, and keep it a long time!" So says the distinguished news analyst, William Winter, on Thursday at the Ondine's delightful luncheon "Fashions With a View" when the 1961 spring and summer collection of the San Francisco designer, Stephanie Koret will be the fashion highlight.

Instead of interviewing a guest as is often the custom on his popular television program, Winter becomes the guest to spark the forthcoming Heart Sunday on Feb. 26 for which he is the San Francisco chairman.

"Have A Heart" is a subject with which Winter is very familiar. A severe heart attack in 1955 made it necessary for him to completely change his habits, reorient his thinking and evolve a different philosophy of living.

On Thursday he will be joined by two attractive Marinites who share his interest in the need for heart education and research. "Fashions With a View" will welcome Mrs. John Bettinger, a young mother of three who chairmans the Heart Sunday in Marin because she feels "it is in giving that we receive," and Mrs. Walter

Hilarious Skits, Costumes For Outdoor Art Club Jinks

Mill Valley residents not familiar with Outdoor Art Club traditions who happened to pass the clubhouse Thursday afternoon probably wondered what was causing the shrieks of laughter.

It was the club's annual "Jinks," and the merriment that shook the rafters was the result of the wildly hilarious skits and costumes members had donned to enter "the world of make-believe."

Balloons everywhere created a festive atmosphere, and particularly appropriate to the theme were the "Little fairies at bottom of the garden" made by Mrs. John Laurie. They decorated the sherry table and buffet tables set with a hot main-dish luncheon by Mrs. Joseph Wittenmeier and Mrs. Gerald Misner.

Costumes varied from the ghoulish one of mistress of ceremonies Mrs. Earle Marsh as "Vampira" to the very elegant medieval one of Mrs. C. I. Dennis as "Lady Greensleeves."

They were Mesdames Lowell Jett as Olive Oil, Jack Creighton as Popeye, Paul Clark as Wimpy and Gordon Harrington as Popeye's father.

Some of those in outstanding costumes were Mesdames Richard Evans as "Miss Muffet," John Murley as "Mrs. Clean," William Pemberton as "Harvey the Rabbit," Jay Chilton as a gypsy, Jack Lentz as "Born 40 Years too Late," R. B. Hartman as "Lord Nelson," T. F. Collison as a Valentine and a group of characters from the cartoon "Popeye."

Selection of a new patient for sponsorship at the Carville sanitarium will be announced by Mrs. Thomas Coates of Corte Madera. The chapter's former patient was discharged from the hospital.

Alumnae desiring transportation to the meeting may contact Mrs. Coates, membership chairman, 22 Flying Cloud Course, Corte Madera.

Cake Decor Demonstration For Delta Zeta Alums Meet

The art of decorating cakes will be demonstrated for Marin County Delta Zeta sorority alumnae when they meet on Thursday, Feb. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Terra Linda home of Mrs. James Smith.

Ideas for cake and pie decoration on each of the holidays throughout the year will be demonstrated by Mrs. Neal Sorenson, co-owner with her husband of San Rafael's Candy Jar. Mrs. Headley Brown will be co-hostess at the meeting, to which members are invited to bring their cakes and pies on which to practice. Several cake decorator sets will be on hand for members to use, according to alumnae chapter president Mrs. Robert Tanem of San Rafael.

Northern California college chapter province director Mrs. William Blair of Fairfax will report on the acquisition of a house by the Zeta Iota Delta Zeta chapter at Humboldt State College in Arcata. The Marin alumnae chapter is sponsoring this college chapter, and plans to provide some of the furnishings for the college house.

Mrs. George R. Mallory of San Rafael, local Panhellenic president and one of the two Delta Zeta representatives to the group, will discuss the high school Panhellenic program scheduled for May 6 in the county. Members of the alumnae recommendations board, Mrs. C. P. Seymour, Lloyd R. Richards, Norman O. Schwien, William A. Upton, Les Vogel Jr., Winthrop P. Watrous, Gilbert C. Wheat.

International Intrigue Bazaar Will Be Staged This Weekend

Redwood High School's International Intrigue Bazaar, which will open with a lively program at 7:30 p.m. Friday and continue from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday, serves to point up the successes and challenges of the American Field Service program in Marin County.

Benefiting the AFS exchange student scholarship program, the intriguing two-day event will feature continuous entertainment representing folklore of many lands, and exotic foods and articles to be offered for sale by over 200 Redwood students and P-TA workers.

Besides Redwood's own Miss Jacqueline Marterer of Le Mans, France, and Charles Katungi of Entebbe, Uganda, the eight other exchange students who are spending their senior year at Marin high schools, will be honored. The total of 10 exchange students in the county with a population of 152,345 can be compared with only two AFS students in the city of San Francisco, with a population of around 800,000. The host community is responsible for 60 per cent of the funds required for the AFS program (roughly $650 per student). Marin's support of this program of international friendship is nationally recognized. Anyone who would prefer to make a money donation can get in touch with Mrs. H. D. Eddy, of Ross, AFS chapter treasurer.

OTHER HALF

Further obligations must be met to provide for the other half of this two-way exchange, since selected local young people can look forward to spending a summer or a semester abroad. Redwood's finalists this year, who are awaiting final screening by the national committee in New York City are Barbara Burns, Martin Denicke, Jon Katz, Nora Nininger, Allison Tracy and Diana Drake.

A recent meeting of committee representatives at the home of Judge and Mrs. Richard Kutangi, a son of a former Prime Minister of the British protectorate Uganda, speaks with a cultured English accent. His homeland, which occupies 80,301 square miles in East Central Africa, contains a population of just under six million souls.

Marin AFS students who will be presented at the Bazaar are Roger Smeets, of Belgium, Victoria Geneteau, of Panama, from San Rafael High School; Jacques Delacroix, of France, from Noyato; Amparo Huici-Casal of Spain, Ahmet Gucuyener of Turkey, from Tamalpais; Rosario Lorca, of Spain, from Katherine Branson School; Alkis Mangroatis, of Greece, and Ricardo Szakely, of Chile, from Drake.

Ladies In Candy Stripes Receive New Insignias

From October, 1958, when the Women's Auxiliary at San Rafael General Hospital was founded, until the end of 1960, members contributed a total of 5,181 hours of volunteer service to the hospital, according to records kept by Mrs. Walter H. Lethbridge, secretary.

Thirty-two members now are on the active roster and there are eight sustaining members. The organization has one honorary member, Miss Edythe Foster of San Rafael.

At its January meeting, 10 of the "Ladies in Candy Stripes" received new insignia designating their hours of volunteer service.

Other records of service include Mrs. Willis E. Ball and Mrs. George M. Henderson auxiliary vice president, 200 hours and more; Mrs. C. Bruce Greene (president), Mrs. E. Neale Johnston (treasurer), Mrs. Lethbridge, Mrs. Roy H. Powers, Mrs. Leslie Turner and Mrs. Donald L. Walling, all more than 100 hours.

Mrs. Maryann Ranconi, Mrs. R. T. Scherini, Mrs. Harold Sahrke, Mrs. S. C. Worswick and Mrs. Robert Mainwaring have served more than 50 hours each.

Possible To Add New Room

CHICAGO (UPI)—It's possible to add a new room to many homes without actually building it.

The trick is to convert seldom-used space into a den, recreation, family or sewing room. Look for the space in an unfinished basement, in a spare room used for storing odds and ends or in a summer sunroom used only a few months a year.

Most of this space is likely to be inadequately heated, or it probably would be used to better advantage. But it's possible to solve that problem, without any changes in your present heating plant, by installing a modern gas or electric space heater. The gas models also operate automatically on LP (liquefied petroleum) gas, stored in liquid form in tanks or cylinders.

To prepare the imaginative and stimulating Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Ksanda had the help of many club members including Mrs. Bernard J. Grataculla who will recruit hostesses; Mrs. L. S. Balliett, flower decorations; Mrs. Jacqueline Cook, displays; Mrs. Glenn T. Hall, telephoning; Mrs. Byron Mayo, master plan for work areas; Mesdames Sally Kimball and Rosemary Derrough Seal, receiving displays. Mrs. Robert LaFontaine created and silk screened the 400 invitations that were addressed by Mrs. John F. Partridge and Mrs. Walter Leggall will be in charge of the coffee which will be served all during the afternoon.

The next step is to cover the walls of the space with one of the new easy-to-apply wall coverings that also provide extra insulation against heat loss. Grooved hardboard panels, laminated onto fiberboard, make an excellent choice. Virtually any handyman can install them. The panels slide together into place and are clipped or stapled onto furring strips.

Wool felt, oil-impregnated canvas and cork tile also make attractive wall coverings and are widely available in new, easy-to-apply form. All give some protection against heat loss.

Today is Monday, Feb. 13, the 44th day of the year with 321 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:
In 1635, the Boston Latin School, the oldest public school in the United States, was established in Boston, Mass.

In 1741, Andrew Bradford of Philadelphia published the first magazine in the nation. It was called "The American Magazine . . . or a monthly view of the political state of the British Colonies."

In 1892, Iowa artist Grant Wood was born.

In 1914, a group of composers' and publishers' representatives organized the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers to protect the rights of musical composers and authors.

A thought for today: Wendell Phillips said: "The best use of laws is to teach men to trample bad laws under their feet."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

San Rafael Council Tonight Will Discuss Highway Plan

Tonight an important problem will be discussed by the San Rafael City Council.

At their 8 p.m. meeting in City Hall (unless it is moved to accommodate the crowd), the problem of the city's highway program is on the agenda.

A major point up for consideration is the proposed widening of Highway 101 through the city. Implicit in these plans are the city's own master streets and highway plan, which must be worked in with the state's program.

There are other considerations too. Major one is the proposed east-west highway across the county and the intersection which will be necessary to separate the north-south highway traffic and the east-west county traffic.

We Miss Novato's 'Mayor'

There are some people who you miss when they are gone, even if you didn't know them too well.

Ernest R. Vogel of Novato was one of these. He died last week at the age of 75.

Vogel was the long-time unofficial "mayor" of Novato, always "looking out for the taxpayers." He would take time off from his second hand shop practically every Tuesday to attend the meetings of the County Board of Supervisors.

He'd sit in the supervisor's chambers, his eyes closed and his chin resting on his chest. But if anything about Novato came up, his eyes would snap open and he'd be very much awake — he'd have an opinion on the pending matter, too.

Sometimes a supervisor would throw the name Novato intentionally into discussion which had nothing whatever to do with the then small community in Northern Marin. Vogel would wake up, all right, but he'd be confused about what caused it, because the board would not be discussing his favorite community.

In recent years, the "mayor" had been less of a supervisory fixture, especially since his heart attack in 1958. With the incorporation of the City of Novato a year ago, he stopped coming entirely.

We miss him.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Finicky About What You Eat? May Be Sign You're Neurotic

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you are too finicky about what you eat, it may be a sign you're neurotic. Psychologists say normal people have fewer food dislikes than the emotionally disturbed.

The country isn't going to the dogs—it's going to the horses. The population grew only 18 per cent in the last decade, but attendance at thoroughbred race tracks leaped more than 55 per cent. In 1960 some 33,933,786 track visitors bet $2,507,061,567.

Even doctors are finding it difficult to keep up with all the new "wonder drugs." In the last 20 years more new specific drugs have been developed than in all previous medical history.

Good advice: Don't feel downhearted if you strike out when attempting to do something. Babe Ruth struck out 1,330 times in his career, but that isn't what he's best remembered for.

Juvenile puffers: A survey showed some British parents pack cigarettes in their children's school lunch boxes. A fourth of 2,500 young smokers (age 9 to 17) said they did so with full parental knowledge.

Our quotable notables: "All the discontented people I know," said David Grayson, "are trying sedulously to be something they are not, to do something they cannot do."

To prove his point, Levering had the legislative analyst's office develop a set of figures involving the number of state employees since 1945, estimated population, expenditures per capita, tax collections, revenues and expenditures.

Latin isn't as dead a language as you may think. In New England a monthly magazine, printed entirely in Latin, has 30,000 subscribers around the globe.

Zoo facts: The ancients thought the leopard was a cross between a lion and a panther. This explains its name—leo for lion, and pard for panther.

RED-FACED APOLOGY: Recently we said anyone wanting to give his girl an unusual valentine could surprise her with a mile of pennies for only $220. Well, lovers, our arithmetic couldn't have been worse. At least 999 readers have written in to point out that there are 16 pennies in a foot, and a mile of pennies would therefore cost $844.80. So give her a box of candy. No girl is worth $844.80.

Turning to another kind of dough, did you know the average U.S. family eats 245 pounds of bread a year?

WORST PUN of the week: Singer Enzo Stuart says he knows a musician's daughter who has boy friends by the score!

It was G. W. Lyon who observed, "Worry is the interest paid by those who borrow trouble."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. planned erection of a modern two-story apartment and office building at 160 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley.

County jail inmates eat lamb stew among other things, supervisors discovered by going downstairs for a quick unannounced look. Supervisor William D. Fusselman treated himself to a smell, and said the stew was appetizing. Two prisoners volunteered that the chow beat Army issue.

20 YEARS AGO

Homestead Valley folk signed petitions asking road improvements to prevent flooding during winter storms.

Allocation of $600,000 for construction of 175 housing units for non-commissioned officers at Hamilton Field was announced.

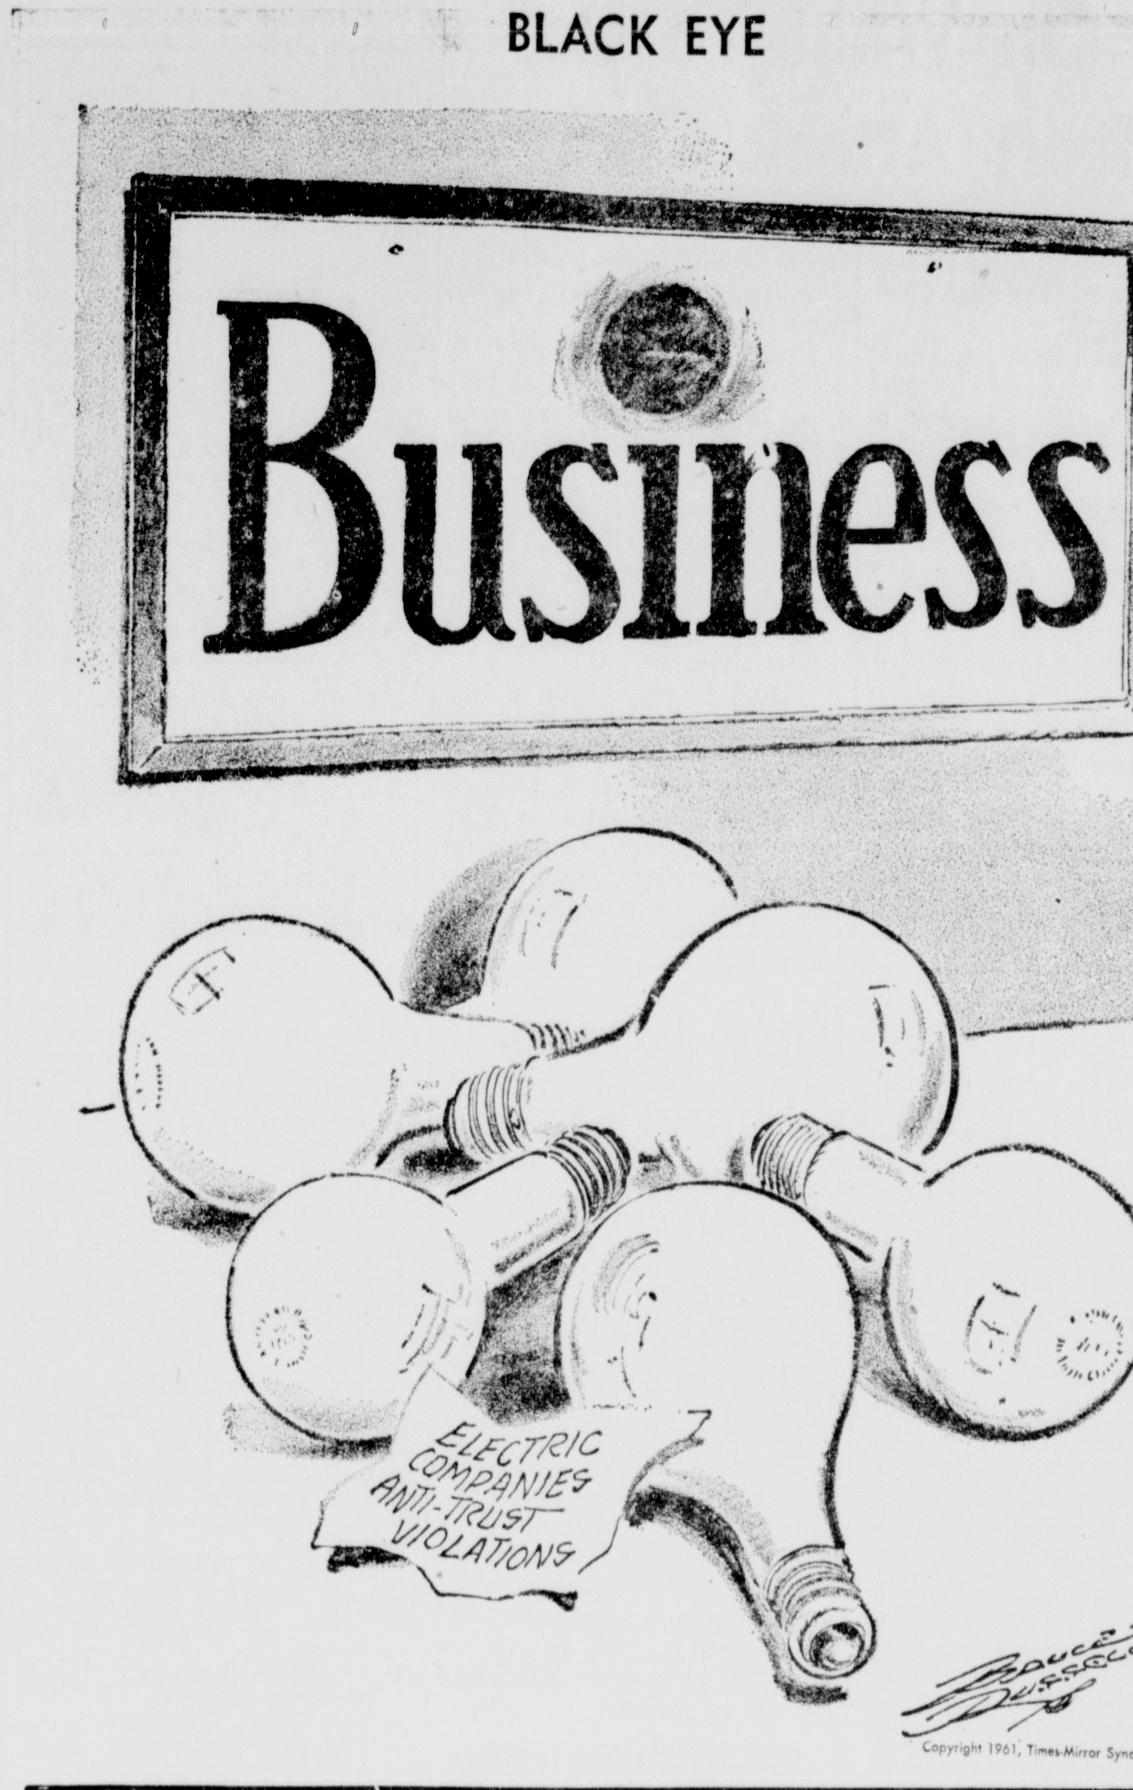

Edwin T. Coman was appointed to the board of the San Rafael Public Library by the city council and George Steele, former city engineer, was appointed to a planning commission vacancy.

All Kinds Of Dogs In Mill Valley Sheep Dogs, Bulls, Even Moodles

Kelly, old three-legged Mill Valley dog friend, there is something you should know —you are not the only dog.

There are all kinds of dogs in this town, sheep dogs, moodles, retrievers and bulls, and each with his own idiosyncrasies.

The other day we met Winston, an old English sheep dog, who wears his hair over his eyes. He's a herder. When you walk with him, it is his habit to bump your leg to herd you as if you were a sheep.

WINSTON HAD to have his name changed recently. This is considered psychologically bad but, practically, it was necessary. The George Cortes of Mill Valley got Winston from Audrey Doughty of Belvedere and Mrs. Cortes, being French, decided his name should become Jeff, since saying the English name was "like eating cheese and talking at the same time."

Another dog, Magoo, is called a moodle—part mastiff, part poodle. Magoo, owned by Rycke and Sonny Thompson, likes to guard. He also likes the bones at the Food Mart. Semi-shaggy in coat, Magoo has known true love.

WHEN RYCKE took Magoo to the city hall to get his dog license, the license man asked "What's his name?"

"Magoo," said Rycke. "Magoo!" said the man and, at this Magoo jumped up with his front paws on the counter and looked the man in the eye. "Why," said the license man, "I know him. He walks to work with me every day."

Dogs are walkers, Kelly. There is a hill dog named Tammy who lives on Muir Woods Hill. A golden retriever, Tammy walks to school, walks in the creek, walks to town and sits in the sun outside Old Mill Tavern and the garden.

On the outside, he is happy. On the inside, he is a lonely duck.

Kennedy's Diplomatic Appointments

Less Distinguished Than Others

WASHINGTON—With notable exceptions, the Kennedy diplomatic appointments have seemed to experienced observers more conventional and less distinguished than the domestic appointments.

There must be a number of interesting reasons for this, not least among them that the field of choice has been much narrower.

It must be said, that there are no fat cats selected for the big posts. There are, however, one or more cases of personal favoritism, there are several cases of men chosen for one job to get them out of a more critical job.

WE DO NOT YET know the full story of the Kennedy diplomatic appointments. What is going to be done to staff the embassies at the second and third levels will make a very big difference in the end.

This is especially important in France. There is no disguising the fact that in view of General de Gaulle's known distaste for the company of generals, the choice of Gen. Tame M. Gavin is a strange one.

Gavin does not, I am told, speak much French, certainly not the kind of French which would enable him to negotiate in French with de Gaulle.

Nevertheless, these two generals have a common language in that both possess what is so rare in the armed services, truly inquiring and original minds. Both are insiders in the military profession with brilliant military experience. But they are not conventional and conformists, and they are not over-impressed by the big brass. It is not impossible that between them they may work out for NATO that new military doctrine which it so sorely needs.

But if Gavin is to do what he is especially qualified to do in Paris, the Embassy will have to be greatly strengthened.

PRE-EMINENT among the notably good appointments are those of David Bruce to London and George Kennon to Belgrade. Bruce has been ambassador to France, to Germany, and to the Coal and Steel Community. There is no other American with a comparable knowledge of the crucial problems of Europe, the schism of Western Europe between the Inner Six and the Outer Seven.

The return of Kennon brings back into government service a most perceptive, learned, and distinguished mind. It was a brilliant idea in the State Department to send Kennon to Yugoslavia. There is no better place, not even in Moscow itself, to observe what is so important and so little known—the foreign policy of the Soviet Union within the Communist orbit.

Then, high marks are deserved for the choice of Prof. Reischauer for Japan. With his knowledge not only of the Japanese language but of Japanese history and culture, he should be able to make a kind of contract with the Japanese which has not been achieved by any of his predecessors.

The decision to keep Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow and Walter Dowling in Bonn is, in view of all that is pending, a wise one. We have no more competent diplomat than Thompson, none more expert in the art of quiet diplomacy which the President and Secretary Rusk believe in.

The trouble with such an inventory as this one is that, in limiting it to the critical posts, it seems to cast a shadow on all the others. That is not my intention. Moreover, there are a lot of appointments still to be made, and many of them will prove to be important.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A reluctant father was bugged by his wife into taking 10-year-old Willie (a monster) to a violin concert by the great Heifetz. After watching the maestro fiddle through two stunning numbers, Papa proposed, "Whaddya say we blow? Don't tell Mom and I'll treat you to a movie instead."

Willie, surprisingly, refused to budge. "I wanna stay," he maintained, "til he says that thing under his chin in half!"

The height of nonchalance was achieved by a titled book collector in England recently. Asked by a library committee if he'd allow his precious first edition of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales (printed by Caxton in 1475) to be borrowed for an exhibition, his Lordship yawned, "Certainly, but for Gawd's sake, don't lose the damned thing!"

HUSBAND: The boss acted like a lamb when I hit him for a raise this morning.

WIFE: Tell me exactly what he said!

HUSBAND: Ba-a-a.

Tomorrow Is Valentine's Day A Time For Tribute To Mother

Tomorrow is Valentine's Day. Here's a suggestion to fathers and teen-agers:

Buy a nice big valentine for the mother of your family and a bunch of flowers, or a box of candy. Let her know you love her. She's earned your gratitude.

We're hard on our mothers, you know. We don't put them on a pedestal the way families do in some countries. We don't fight for the chance to help them. Not us. We give our mothers a mop or a broom and say, "Get to work, dear. Our house needs cleaning."

Some studies have been made comparing the lives of American city mothers and mothers in little Mexican villages. American women have all the gadgets: Vacuum cleaners, garbage disposals, washing machines, irons and so on. But they work longer hours than the Mexican mothers. They have fewer holidays. They've much more to worry about. Did you know that?

There have also been comparative studies on the lives of modern mothers and American women a century ago. The results surprised me. A hundred years ago many women worked like slaves. They're the ones we remember. But others enjoyed a fair amount of leisure. They weren't too upset if their homes were dirty. They didn't give their children baths very often, either.

You see we're raised our standards. With every gadget, our expectations have gone up. Mother doesn't do the laundry once a week any more. She does it daily. A speck of dust in the house disgraces her. Her little ones can't run around with dirty faces. If they do, we all go cluck, cluck, cluck.

So American mothers are swamped. Some of them break down. But most of them just worry along, like your mother.

Valentine's Day is a nice time to say thanks. Will you, please?

(Q) "I can't spell, and my children can't either. Is there any way you can help us?" —Mrs. S. F.

(A) Yes. Many people are poor spellers. They can overcome their weakness by using a dictionary freely. Get children's dictionaries for your youngsters. Buy an adult dictionary for yourself. Then cultivate the dictionary habit.

WHO SAID IT WAS WINTER?

Sunshine and a 78-degree temperature sent Debbie (left) and Denise Reynolds, 6-year-old twins of Lubbock, Tex., outdoors for a winter-time plunge yesterday. In general, spring-like weather prevailed in much of the South, and in wide section of the central U.S. But it was chilly and wet across the northern tier of states from the Rockies into New England. (AP Wirephoto)

Baptist Sunday Sermon Directed Toward Youth

Yesterday was Boy Scout Sunday, and the sermon at the First Baptist Church of Corte Madera was among those in the nation directed primarily toward the young men of the congregation.

"Christ's tarrying behind shows that he designed to give an early specimen of what he was reserved to do," said the minister. Respect to God must not be construed as disrespect by Jesus toward his parents.

"Many a youth at Christ's age would have been playing with the other children, but Jesus was sitting with the teachers of Israel."

"It is good to see young people willing to dwell in the house of the Lord—they are then Christ-like. Their lives are then full, complete and spirit-filled."

"Every summer hosts of young people go to camps, conferences, and assemblies where many of them are fortunate enough to come under the influence of God-inspired leaders, consecrated to His service, and the youngsters are awakened for the first time to a consciousness of God's call to a life of Christian service. They go back home and say in essence, 'Do you not know that I must be about my Father's business?'"

Explained the Corte Madera minister, "In this record there is the practice of attending religious services. This was the law of the Old Testament. The New Testament presents it on a free will basis. . . . We should seek the Lord in the place where he can most readily be found—in Christ's church, the redemptive fellowship of the congregation.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Science Foundation has announced that six Americans, one Argentine and a Russian arrived at the south pole yesterday after a 65-day, 1,200-mile journey in snow-cats that began at McMurdo Sound.

The scientists were greeted by U.S. Navy personnel and members of other scientific missions who are preparing for the six-month long Antarctic night.

Dr. Albert P. Crary of Pierrepont, N.Y., one of the few men ever to set foot on both north and south poles, led the group from McMurdo. He said they stopped every 60 miles to determine the elevation and thickness of the ice cap and study sub-glacial rock surfaces.

Called To Talk Before A Group? Toastmasters Club Can Assist

The ability to express ideas is one of the most valuable assets in business management. Vocal articulation probably takes the lead over the written word, since there are usually more occasions to speak your mind than write it.

Anyone who is called upon to talk before a group or would do so if he felt qualified might consider the advantages of an association with one of the five Toastmasters Clubs active in Marin County which offer businessmen training in public speaking.

According to Jack Van Houzen, president, and Del Preston, administrative vice president of Marin Toastmasters Club 890, the oldest in the county, there are now 3,236 such clubs throughout the world. California leads all states with a total of 443, and outside of the United States and Canada the nation having the greatest concentration of clubs is Scotland where words are generally frugally employed, with 76.

There are even clubs aboard the USS Everglades and the USS Saratoga, and two at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, although the Havana club ceased operations during the past year. Too bad. A certain gentleman with a beard might learn when to stop talking.

While many clubs stress the art of elocution by naming their groups after famous orators, the main purpose of most of them is to develop simple, clear and thoughtful expression before an audience.

MARIN COUNTY will have its savings and loan business 100 per cent represented this week at the annual management conference of the California Savings and Loan League in Palm Springs.

Attending are Earle M. Young, president, and Eugene A. Ostaggi, executive vice-president, Ross Valley Savings and Loan, San Anselmo; Fred F. Enemark, executive vice-president, and Jordan L. Martinielli Jr., secretary, Marin County Savings and Loan, San Rafael; R. Keith Dearth, president, and Esther M. Dearth, vice president, Northwestern Savings and Loan, San Rafael, and George K. Ohlemutz, manager, Homestead Savings and Loan, Sausalito.

The meeting is expected to attract more than 600 delegates from throughout California.

MARINDIVIDUALS in Business: Larry Leverman, 320 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood, has been appointed sales representative for Crown Zellerbach Corp.'s newsprint division in central and northern California. A native of Portland, he joined the firm in 1949; was assigned to San Francisco headquarters in 1953. . . . George H. Paldi, 515 Whitewood Drive, Terra Linda, has been made superintendent of agencies for the Guardian Life Insurance Co. of America. Formerly agency director for the Pacific Coast area, he will retain the same territory with Guardian's agencies in Texas added to his responsibilities.

THE WORD "Jeep" is now as familiar to the public as margarine. Jeep vehicles produced by Willys Motors are all over the world and just about anything that comes off the production line with a stubby, square-cut chassis, short wheelbase and open cockpit gets tagged with the label.

Some of these vehicles are not jeeps at all, says Willys.

They are Ford M151 models, known as "Mutts."

"Jeep" is Willys' registered trademark in 90 foreign countries besides the United States. Legally, the company claims, it may not be used by any other manufacturer.

Moreover, we are now informed by Willys that "jeep" is not a noun but an adjective; the correct expression is a "jeep vehicle" or "a jeep station wagon"—most recent dictionaries and common usage to the contrary.

It's going to be a hard point to make.

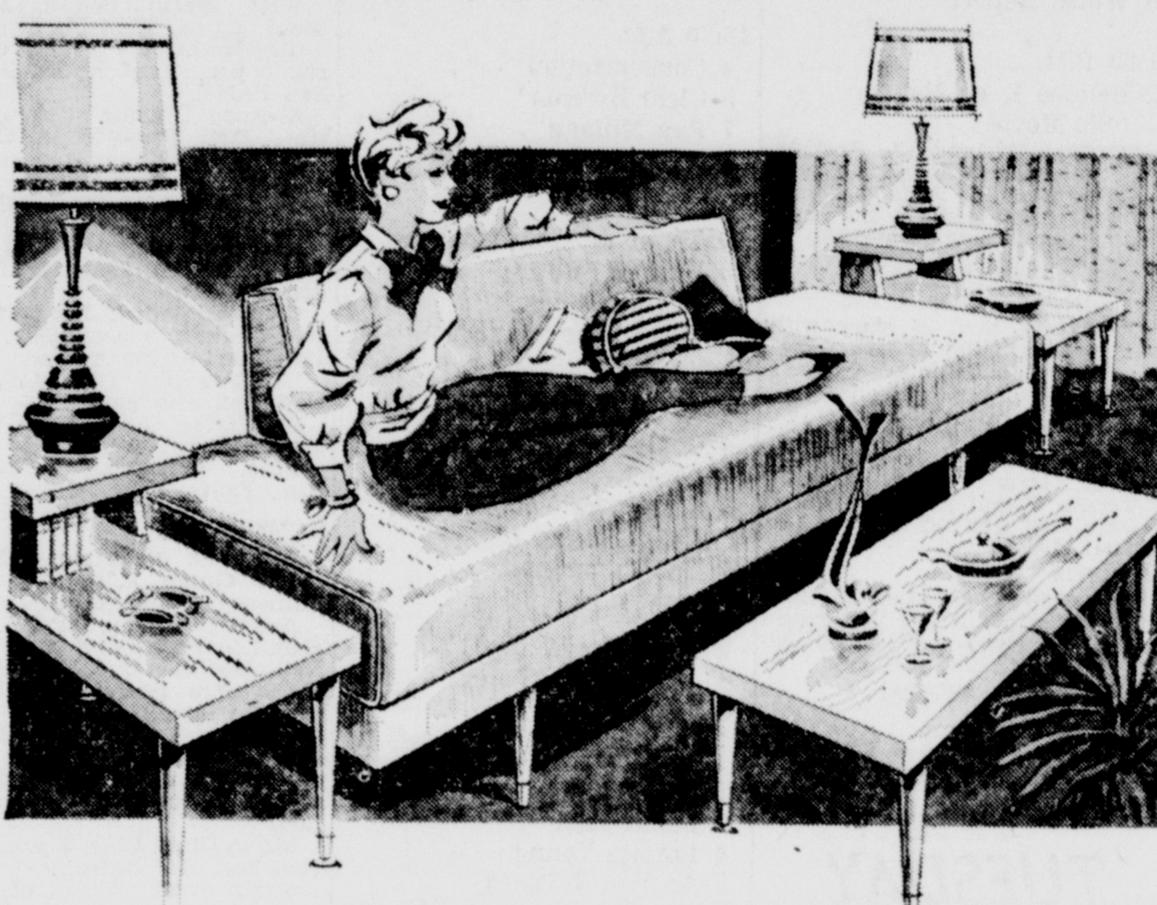

Flower Society Names Hub Man

Dr. Frederick W. Coe of San Anselmo has been named vice-president of the California chapter of the American Rhododendron Society, it was announced today.

The chapter will hold its monthly meeting, Feb. 23, at 8 p.m. at the Washington School, 60th and Shattuck Avenues in Oakland.

Roughly 36 per cent of the Indian population of the United States lives in Oklahoma.
